

Abri's Authorised Contact Privacy Notice

V.1.0 18/12/20

Abri is committed to protecting your privacy and takes its responsibilities regarding the security of your information very seriously. This Privacy Notice sets out how we will use and protect all information relevant to you, which we collect from you or from our customers who may have asked that you be nominated as the person we should communicate with, for particular matters relevant to their tenancy and/or independent or supported living services (either under a Lasting Power of Attorney, or a signed Authority to Disclose form).

Throughout the rest of this Notice we will refer to you as 'Authorised Contact'

We process Authorised Contact information in accordance with relevant data protection and privacy laws (notably General Data Protection Regulation, or 'GDPR' and the Data Protection Act 2018 - which we refer to as data protection law) for two reasons (called 'lawful grounds'): firstly that you have provided us with your consent to do so; and secondly, in emergencies (eg. where emergency services are involved) because it is in the vital interests of our customer.

Who we are

When we say 'we' or 'us' in this policy, we're generally referring to Abri Group itself and all the housing providers that make up Abri including the Swaythling, Drum, Yarlinton and Portal housing associations. Under GDPR Abri is the Data Controller of the personal information it holds about the Authorised Contacts of its customers.

What sorts of information do we collect and hold about you

Abri collects and processes only the following information about our customers' Authorised Contact:

- Name,
- Contact address
- Telephone number
- Email address
- Records of your contact with our colleagues relevant to our customer, their tenancy with us and any independent living services we provide or arrange for the customer
- Responses to surveys that you may complete

How do we use your information?

We process Authorised Contact information to enable us to provide social and affordable housing accommodation and independent and supported living services to our customers, and to respond effectively to our customer's needs in the course of their tenancy with us, or for the duration of any service contract we have with them.

Who we might share your information with.

Where it is necessary to share information about an Authorised Contact we will always comply with data protection law. Set out below are examples of when sharing may occur.

Some of your information will be shared internally, with those parts of our organisation that are involved in supporting our services to the customer.

Occasionally we may need to share your information with other organisations, who are involved in providing services to the customer or in an emergency when the customer's health or wellbeing is at serious risk.

Other than the situations described above, we will only share your information when we are legally obliged to do so.

How long do we keep your information for?

We will always keep your information in accordance with data protection law and never for longer than is necessary. In general, we will keep your information for as long as you remain the Authorised Contact for our customer. Once the customer's tenancy comes to an end, their tenancy record will be retained for a further 2 years and Authorised Contact information remains on that record for the same period, in case we need to contact you about anything concerning the customer.

Recordings of standard telephone conversations with you may be held for up to six weeks after the call is made. These recordings help us to resolve complaints and generally to improve service quality standards. Recordings of conversations that are deemed abusive or threatening will be kept until all relevant investigation actions are complete.

Information security

Abri takes the security of your data seriously. It has internal policies, controls (electronic, physical and managerial) and procedures in place to ensure that your data is not lost, accidentally destroyed, misused or disclosed unlawfully to others, and is only accessed by our colleagues in the proper performance of their duties. These security measures include:

- Limiting access to our building to those people we believe are entitled to be there (by the use of key card passes and ID Badges)
- Applying access controls to our technology and devices, such as firewalls, ID verification, and encryption.
- Never asking for any passwords you might use to access the My Abri Customer Portal on behalf of the customer you help.
- Maintaining Cyber Essentials Certification.

If the customer you help as Authorised Contact is registered with My Abri, they are the owner of the username and password for that system. If you assist them in using My Abri you must not share their user name and password with anybody else.

International Transfers

It may sometimes be necessary to transfer personal information overseas for the purposes set out in this notice. Where this is necessary, we will always ensure that it is to a country that has the same level of data protection standards as the UK, or to an organisation that is able and has agreed to apply those same levels of standard. If we do this your personal information will continue to be subject to appropriate safeguards as set out in data protection law.

Your rights

Access and correction of your personal information

You have the right to a copy of the personal information that we hold about you. This is often called a subject access request (SAR). There are limits to this right such as where the disclosure of the information would unreasonably impact the data protection rights of another person. We have 30 days to provide you with the information requested but will always try to do so as soon as we can.

Before providing personal information to you or another person on your behalf, we may ask for proof of identity and sufficient information about your interactions with us so that we can locate your personal information. You can contact us to ask for your information at any time using the contact details the 'Contact Us' section below.

Right to stop or limit our processing of your data

You have the rights, in certain circumstances, to limit or object to our use of your personal information. Also you have the right to ask us to delete your personal information if there is no longer a lawful reason for us to use it.

Right to data portability

You have the right to receive and reuse your personal information, which you have provided to us, for your own purposes across different services. This applies where the processing is based on your consent or for the performance of a contract and when processing is carried out by automated means.

Consent

As mentioned above in most circumstances your consent is the legal basis for us using your information.

Consent must be freely given by you and for a specific purpose; we will always clearly explain why we need the information we have asked you for or have obtained from our customer. We never assume your consent, or use pre-ticked boxes to communicate consent.

You have the right to change your mind at any time and withdraw your consent. The consequence might be that we can no longer do certain things for you or our customer. Consent can be withdrawn using the customer portal or, by emailing abridataprotection@abri.co.uk, or by writing to us at the address given below.
